

History Week 1	What makes a person significant?
Starter	Watch the lesson video but only start it from the time 2minutes 40seconds as the first part isn't relevant https://www.thenational.academy/year-1/foundation/what-is-an-explorer-year-1-wk5-1#slide-3
Parent	During this term they are learning about different explorers and which countries they discovered and places that they explored. Although the lesson is recorded for Year 1 it is an excellent starting point and will reinforce previous learning (like Neil Armstrong) but it is especially useful for teaching the important vocabulary for the unit. We are sure that they will enjoy watching this and then complete some activities that are based on the Year 2 learning objectives. They do not need to complete the drawing activity at the end of the lesson video.
Activities	* Worksheet based activity	 Worksheet based activity	Personal research
	Match the words to the pictures of significant people on the activity sheet and explain why they are thought of as significant.	Complete the cut out sheet on the website placing their significant people in the spaces or adding extra ones that are not represented. Can they talk about the reasons that they have sorted them into those groups.	Research and write a paragraph about their favourite significant person. It could be somebody from history, someone famous, someone religious or someone that they value in their lives. They need to describe their personality using adjectives and explain why they think that they are significant. Try to include some facts too such as where and when they were born.
Parent	To complete the lesson it would be useful for them to go through the Oak Academy end of lesson quiz to consolidate their knowledge https://www.thenational.academy/year-1/foundation/what-is-an-explorer-year-1-wk5-1#slide-4
