

Investigating Flags

It would have been the Olympics this year so why not investigate some of these flags with your maths knowledge about shape and rotation that you have been learning about in the last two weeks:

- How many of these flags have symmetry? Which ones have more than 1 line of symmetry?
- Which flags would look the same after a half turn clockwise?
- What shapes can you describe in these flags?
- Can you see any right angles in these flags?

