

MR. THUMBLE'S INTERESTING DAY

Mr. Thumble was a wise old man that lived on a hill. He loved simple things in life. One day he felt a rumble. It made the candle on his table tremble. As the house did tremble, he was scared his house would crumble to the ground. "What should I do?" he thought. "I must get out of my house, and I must be careful that I don't stumble and hurt my ankle!

Mr. Thumble took a gamble. He needed to get his prize items out of his house. He grabbed his candle, his picture of the jungle, and next he went to the cabinet. He fumbled with the handle. He had to get his knitting out before his house crumbled. His knitting was in a tangle with the spindle. He used his nimble fingers to free his precious things. As quick as a flash, with his things in a jumble, he fled to safety outside his house. As he stood on the top of the hill, he smiled and showed his dimple. What a day!

